THE LUNDY LAW FOUNDATION TO SPONSOR STUDENT PROGRAMMING IN PARTNERSHIP WITH THE NATIONAL MUSEUM OF AMERICAN JEWISH HISTORY

PHILADELPHIA—The National Museum of American Jewish History (NMAJH) is partnering with the Lundy Law Foundation for Courageous Choices: Finding Your Creative Voice. Courageous Choices is a signature Museum initiative that brings history to life for students ages ten and up. The students analyze and interpret documents, events, and participate in an interactive Museum tour that helps give them an understanding of historical figures who exemplify the American spirit and the values of courage, imagination, aspiration, hard work, leadership, and service.

The cornerstone of the program is the opportunity for students to experience a dynamic performance where they hear first-person accounts from individuals who have made courageous choices or used art to find their creative voice. Currently, students attend a theatrical performance at the Museum of 1 Pound, 4 Ounces, created and performed by award-winning actor, dancer, and instructor Khalil Munir. The one-man show tells Munir's story of overcoming adversities and hurdles in life through an interpretive tap dance performance.

At the end of the program, students will take home books donated by the Lundy Law Foundation to continue their educational journey from their newly designated "book cart" which will be unveiled at the April 6 Courageous Choices performance.
